Dowager Said to Have Slain Family of Prince Who Befriended the Whites

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS ARE ACUTE

Pekin, Feb. 9.—Terrible crimes are laid at the doors of white looters by Chinese victims. Hundred cases of murder, criminal assault, torture and robbery are charged. The family of the Chinese prince slain by the dowager because he befriended the whites allege his valuables were stolen by a French bishop and are now in possession of an American official who is about to ship them away. The charges, it is established, will make Christendom blush.

PEACE MOVE

Gen. Woods to Succeed Gen. Ketchener in the Fields of South Africa.

CREDITED TO THE KAISER

When Woods Reaches New Field Kitchener Will Return to Former One in India.

COMMENT IN ENGLAND IS FAVORABLE

London, Feb. 9.—Gen. Sir Evelyn Woods will be sent to South Africa as a peace commissioner, thus virtually superseding Lord Kitchener, who will go to India. It is said the kaiser influenced this course of action. The fact is causing much comment, largely favorable.

A CANDY FACTORY.

MR. STUTZ TO START ONE NEXT MONTH.

Mr. P. E. Stutz, the well known confectioner and owner of the Candy Kitchen, will start a candy manufacturer the first of March, in one of the buildings on the South Side of Broadway, between First and Second streets. Mr. Stutz has contemplated establishing such an institution for some time and has at last completed his plans. There is no question of its proving a success. The wholesale houses of Paducah alone will use the output of a large plant. Mr. Stutz expects to place all his product with them.

BOAT CHARTERED.

THE POLICE FORCE AND OTHERS WILL GO TO METROPOLIS TOMORROW.

The police force have chartered the ferry boat Bettie Owen and will go down tomorrow, accompanied by all others who desire to go to Metropolis to attend Marshal Crouch's funeral.

The boat will leave about 12 o'clock and return at 6.

INCOMPATIBILITY.

MRS. ANNIE PARRISH FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE IN CIRCUIT COURT.

GOES TO CREAL SPRINGS.

The Creal Springs, Ill., News says Mr. Wm. Chesterfield is due there Monday to confer with the citizens in order to enter the contest for health officer, and will tender his resignation as a member of the board at the next council meeting. The health officer cannot be a member of the board, and this made Dr. Graves' resignation necessary.

The board, in regard to several claims near Second and Broadway, alleged to be unsanitary, decided to go down and inspect them and report at the next meeting, which will probably be Tuesday.

It is reported that Dr. J. D. Robertson will be elected to succeed Dr. Graves as a member of the Board of Health.

Mr. J. C. Pieper, as vice president, succeeds President Graves.

ESCAPED DOWN A POST.

A man entered Mrs. John Orme's residence, at Fifth and Court streets, early last evening by a rear door that had been left open, but when discovered and Lieutenant Moore was called, he made good his escape through a second story window to a porch, thence to the ground.

MAY AGAIN FIGHT.

The clerk of the board of supervisors of the county tax books reports that out of about 250 raises in assessments there were only about 115 protests. The total raises will probably aggregate $140,000.

TAKEN TO RIVES.

The remains of Fireman Pink Underwood, in charge of Mr. T. C. Callicott, were taken to Rives, Tenn., at 6 o'clock last evening and buried today.

THE REPORT FALSE.

A report in circulation in river circles today that the Lydia was blown up or sunk is without foundation.

WILL LECTURE HEREAFTER.

De Moines, Io., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Nation has arrived here. She will lecture hereafter instead of making "smashing" raids on saloons.

A TOWN'S GOOD LUCK.

Huntington, W. Va., is one of three cities in the United States where telephone service is had absolutely free of charge. In that town the Bell and a home company are fighting tooth and nail, and three years ago the Bell created a sensation by announcing that until further notice its service would be given free of charge.

This was expected to crush the home company, but, contrary to expectations, it has thrived; its rates have not been cut and the number of phones has increased. Of course, there has been an active demand for the free Bell phones, but the company is slow in complying with requests for the installation of instruments.

Aside from its free service the Bell gives a wider service, but the fact that the home company is owned largely by local persons has given it a foothold which it is apparently destined to maintain. New Philadelphia, O., near Wheeling, is another town where the Bell gives an absolutely free service, owing to competition with a home company.

Why can't Paducah get a publication of its financial condition? The council has a clerk and a financial board and statements should be easily made. There are charges of misappropriations of funds, and extravagance if not criminal expenditures, which may or may not be correct. The council owes it to itself if not to the people to explain. The old order and practice of years was to print an annual statement of the city's financial condition, and this practice should be resumed.

There is a suggestion that New York city and environs be made a state, "The Metropolitan," and of course the state is a political move of the gang in control of the city. The plan would include the New Jersey counties of Hudson, Bergen, Essex and Union and a portion of Passaic county, which contains Paterson. This would leave the remainder of the present states of New York and New Jersey very small affairs indeed and would create a new commonwealth having 4,856,000 people, second only to Pennsylvania in population, with out any rural or farming inhabitants and easily first in wealth. What a snap it would be for the gang and what a power would be its boss.

The Lang administration has immortalized itself by building a 10x12 coop at the city hall for the patrol wagon. In the front of this grand and costly pile there is a tablet that does the immortalizing. The tablet contains an inscription reminding the generations to come that J. M. Lang was mayor when this beautiful edifice was erected. As the size of the building, its appearance and architecture are synonymous of the accomplishments, capacity and ability of the present administration, we see no reason why the tablet should not perform its mission, unless it will operate as an unpleasant reminder to the present generation of the great mistake it made four years ago.

Apparently the military part of the Philippine problem will be solved in a very short time. The civil part of the question, however, will then have to be dealt with, and this will offer some difficulties, at least on the start. There is the issue of the friars to settle, and this will have to be handled delicately. A large majority of the natives in some of the districts in the islands are hostile to the friars, and their opinions will have to be accounted for.

Of course, this country does not interfere in religious matters in any of the possessions. All faiths are on an equality before the law in the United States and for its territories. But some accommodation will have to be made in this matter, and there is good reason to assume that a solution will be reached which will be satisfactory to both sides, and subserve the ends of justice and the good of the Filipinos.

After all, a politician is like so much tobacco. The public smokes him; if he's for the moment he's a cigarette; a man of the session may be a cigar; but the biggest of them is only a pouchful of tobacco.—Lord Linlithgow.

It is not strange how often, to test our happiness, we harp on sorrow. I know I have read somewhere that great love always entails pain. I have not found it yet; but for me it does mean fear.—An Englishwoman's Love Letters.

We see man far removed from the instincts of jungles, his innate instincts dulled by too near an approach to free will, his free will not sufficiently developed to replace his instincts and afford perfect guidance.—The Fortune of Day.

MOTHERS OF FAMOUS SONS.

Women Whose Influence has Helped to Mould Great Minds and Make Noble Careers Possible.

(Mary Lowe Dickinson.)

"A MODEL FOR MOTHERS."

It was Garibaldi who says of his mother, a woman of humble station:

"She was a model for mothers. Her tender affection for me has perhaps,

been excessive, but I do not owe to her love, to her angel like character,

the little good that belongs to mine?

Often, amidst the most arduous scenes of my tumultuous life, when I have passed unharmed through the breakers of the ocean or the hailstorms of battle, she has seemed present with me. I have, in fancy, seen her on her knees before the Moon

High—my dear mother—implored for the life of her son, and I have believed in the efficacy of her prayers."

"Give me the mothers of the nation to educate, and you may do what you like with the boys," was one of his favorite maxims.

In all the touching examples of the influence of motherhood, there is no

story more tender than that of the devotion and the prayers that were rewarded finally by the conversion of St. Augustine. The heart-communion of son and mother was indeed a fellowship of kindred minds."

THE MOTHER OF NAPOLEON.

The mother of Napoleon Bonaparte

was the mother also of twelve other children, eight of whom were living

when she was left a widow, at the age of thirty-five. Napoleon said of her:

"She managed everything, provided for everything with prudence which could neither have been expected from her sex nor from her age. She watched over us with a solicitude unexplained. Every low sentiment, every un-generous affection, was discouraged and discarded. She suffered nothing but that which was grand and elevated to take root in our youthful understanding. She abhorred falsehood, and would not tolerate the slightest act of disobedience. None of our faults were overlooked. Losses, privations, fatigue, had no effect upon her. She endured all, braved all,

with the energy of a man, combined with the gentleness and delicacy of a woman." Such was Napoleon's
